JOCKEY DUGAN DECIDES TO OUTSIDE MOUNTS.

Is influenced by Present Criticism of Other Riders Stewards at Belmont Are on the Alert Detroits and Highlanders Meet in Novel Game To-day

Because of unpleasant criticism aimed at several leading jockeys here Jockey Dugan says voluntarily that during the remainder of the local season he will not for anybody except August Belmont H. P. Whitney and S. C. Hildreth. As these turfmen have very few horses Dugan will overworked in the saddle by any The Westchester stewards say jockey has been reprimanded for queer riding except Grand, but that are watching things very closely. It has to make public reasons for penalties in cted upon riders unless to ascribe them to rough riding. Vincent Powers was set down at Saratoga for alleged foul riding in spite of the testimony of hundreds of witnesses that his mount did not interfere with any horse at any stage. Powers is still on the ground, however, Jockey mont Park this meeting not only excited austic comment but also prompted the of Besom last Friday. Grand's peculiar handling of Nimbus in a race won by Jack Atkin last Thursday was severely censured at the time by competent critics who said they believed there was a motive. twell in the saddle instead of Grand Nimbus showed an impressive form reversa Monday, when he won, Grand, however, was engaged to ride Nimbus in the latter event, but when George Odom reached denly gone to Chicago, leaving word that

To several persons who saw him before he packed his trunk Grand said that he was weak physically because of reducing and ed a rest, at the same time stating that he expected to ride at Pimlico the latter part of this month. When asked about Grand's srowards said that the boy had not been although he admitted that the stewards had queried Grand as to his suspicious looking ride on Besom. Dugan's sudden determination to cut outside mounts has stirred up the gossips. Dugan has ridden several barres, including Field Mouse in a race won by Sir John Johnson last week, in a way to excite unfavorable remarks. The boy an excellent reputation for honesty, however, and also has a loyal following. In discussing the matter yesterday Dugan declared that he had decided of his own accord dreth horses in future because of a growing tendency on the part of racegoers to find fault with some of the leading jockeys.

While there is no evidence of collusion between riders and speculators there is a lot of talk about secret deals and manipulation which well posted individuals indulge The turf governors are not blind to anything, it may not be surprising to learn that some persons have decided to quit the racing game for the purpose of recuperating.

The Detroits and Highlanders will play an interesting game at American League Park this afternoon for the benefit of Sam Crane, the veteran baseball scribe, who is in poor health. Hugh Jennings wired the managers of the game yesterday that the Tigers would present their regular team, with Joe McGinnity on the slab. It is hoped that Christy Mathewson will receive permission to pitch a part of the game for the Highlanders, as the fans are anxious to see what the American League shampions can do with his famous 'fade away." John M. Ward and Dan Brouthers will umpure the same and Ty Cobb's pet bat will be sold to the highest bidder. Many baseball magnates have secured reserved seats at fanoy prices, while Manager McGraw has subscribed liberally for tickets for personal use. Crane has been identified with the national game as player and critic for more than thirty-five years and is well known. If the weather is pleasant it is expected that a large crowd will see this novel contest.

Hugh Duffy is named as the probable manager of the Chicago White Sox. Duffy is part owner of the Providence club and has been a success as a minor league team handier. Several years ago he had charge of the Philadelphia Nationals, but he was handicapped by a lack of financial backing. Owner Comiskey of the Sox and Duffy are old friends and if the latter assumes the management of the Chicago club he will have a big bankroll behind him.

Taylor, a new scrub fullback, also showed to advantage. O'Rourke was tried at tackle for a time, but later gave way to Monk. Wiggins was tried at halfback on the varsity.

WEST POINT, Oct. 5.—The cadet team had their first scrimmage of the week to-day and the scrubbs held the varsity down to one touchdown, but the defensive work of the first team was so strong that the scrubs did not get a first down during the game. Surles, who played halfback on the varisty one touchdown and the scrubs did not get a first down during the game.

George Davis, who has worn the spangles for nearly twenty years in the major league, will probably manage a Western minor league team next season, as the White Sox have let him out. Davis joined the Clevelands in 1890 and was traded to the Giants several years later. He was manager of the New Yorks for a short time in 1895 and remained with the team until he jumped to the Chicago Americans in 1902. In his prime Davis was a great hitter, a first class fielder in all the diamond positions and a sensational outfielder. He hung on gamely until Father Time handed him the inevitable release. If Davis makes a hit as a minor manager he says he will proceed to climb the ladder. George Davis, who has worn the spangles

The Pittsburg club announces that all the reserved seat tickets—18,314—have been soid for the first two games of the world's series with Detroit, to begin at Forbes Field on Friday. In spite of the fact that there are 12,000 bleacher seats in the immense stadium additional stands to accommodate 8,000 spectators have been built, so that a crood of nearly 15,000 persons can lavorite at 6 to 5 and have a world of backing in the Smoky City. In the game on Friday the rival pitchers will probably be Willis for Pittsburg and Summers for Detroit.

Philadelphia Jack O'Brien, speaking from experience, says that Ketchel will beat Johnson or any man in the world if he fights the way he did in this city and Quakertown. Ketchel is faster than Johnson believes, "declares O'Brien, "and I can testify that he is the greatest puncher in the world. He aever loses his balance and can hit from any angle. He can hit so rapidly that Johnson will be rattled. One good punch on the jaw or in the body will make the negro back up, and if he takes to the woods Ketchel will be on top of him. Johnson is a false favorite at 10 to 4."

The Ketchel-Johnson fight, by mutual agreement, has been postponed until a week from Saturday as Promoter Coffroth, who will pull off the mill at Colma, thinks that that day will enable a larger crowd to attend than on Tuesday next, the original date. The postponement will have no effect on the training methods of the principals.

IN THE FOOTBALL WORLD. Light Schedule for To-day-Navy Plays

Its First Game. It is a light schedule that is down for decision to-day in the pigskin arena. Harvard is through with midweek games, while Yale plays the last one this afternoon The Navy plays its first game to-day. The schedule follows:

Yale vs. Holy Cross, at New Haven. Princeton vs. Villanova, at Princeton Brown vs. Bates, at Providence. Navy vs. St. John's, at Annapolis.

Georgetown vs. Rock Hill, at Washington. NEW HAVEN, Oct. 5 .- Varied play again marked the practice of the Yale football squad this afternoon. For the varsity team Johnson and Howe were the quarter backs and each shows great improvement Again a field goal was kicked, this time by Johnson. It was the third score of the day. The scrub team had held Yale for three downs and Johnson kicked from the 30 yard line. Daly did not play in the scrimmage to-day. He is suffering from a slightly injured leg as the result of the syracuse game. His place was taken by Messinger. The varsity played twenty-five minutes on the offensive and five minutes on the defensive. Philbin made a thirty yard ward the and the third play. vard run around the end the third play for a touchdown. No goal was kicked leading up to the next touchdown. From about the 40 yard line Johnson made a for ward pass to Logan, who gained twenty yards. In a couple of line plunges Philbin took the ball over for a touchdown.

CAMBRIDGE. Oct. 5 .- The Harvard varsity and second teams were lined up to-day in a regular scrimmage in two halves of fifteen and twenty minutes. The ball was given to the second team on the var-sity 45 yard line and a series of flerce line where kennard, now playing on the second count of graduation from the acadepartment, executed one of his beautiful drops between the goal posts. Interclass football practice at Columbia took on a more serious and important aspect yesterday when L. H. Bigelow, captain of the Yale varsity football team in 1907 and coach at New Haven last season, took charge of the junior team on South Field yesterday afternoon. Bigelow is a law student at Columbia and intends to devote as much of his spare time as possible to training the Columbia class teams. He will look after the third year team three days a week and the other two days he purposes giving to the freshmen.

A series of six games has been arranged in which each team will play every other team. The first game will be played next Wednesday. The schedule is as follows:

October 13, Sophomores vs. Freshmen; 20. Seniors vs. Juniors; 27, Juniors vs. Freshmen; 30. Seniors vs. Sophomores; November 3, Seniors vs. Preshmen; 30. Seniors vs. Juniors vs. Sophomores.

New York University played its first practice football game yesterday afternoon with Webb Academy. The heavy university forwards opened up huge gaps in their opponent's line, through which the Violet backs made large gains. Coach Olcott's charges also made long gains on forward passes, Crawford and Capt. Wheeler, the ends, both working this play successfully. Garsch punted well at fullback, and Nixon at quarter made several brilliant plays, besides running the team with good generalship.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 5.—The Cornell varsity and scrubs battled through a forty-five minute scrimmage this afternoon in which the offensive work of both teams, especially the varsity, was poor. Capt. Tydeman's long eighty yard run, scoring the only touchdown for the varsity, was the only touchdown for the varsity by O'Connor and Seagrave for the varsity enlivened things a bit. Both teams punted a good deal, finding it difficult to gain headway, though once the scrubs made a good advance with Krutsch carrying the ball forty yards. O'Connor and Weeks won their way to the varsity training table by their performances, making twelve men now at the table. Davidson, a sophomore who played on the freshman team last fail, was tried out at halfback and did pretty well. Taylor, a new scrub fullback, also showed to advantage. O'Rourke was tried at tackle for a time, but later gave way to Monk. Wiggins was tried at halfback on the varsity.

though he received a severe joit.

ANNAPOLIS, Oct. 5.—Only a short scrimmage was held this afternoon by the Naval Academy team, though the eleven lines up against St John's to-morrow in the opening game of the season. Capt. Meyer will not play, as his old trouble with his knee is asserting itself again, and the coaches will give as many men as possible a chance in the lineup. The probable lineup at the beginning of the game will be: Left end, Cobb; left tackle, Anderson; left guard, Niles; centre, Brand; right guard, Reinicke; right tackle, Richardson; right end, Reifsanieder; quarterback, Byrd; left halfback, Dalton or Sowell; right halfback, Clay; fullback, Rodes.

season. Wesleyan's next game is with Stevens at Hoboken on Saturday.

PRINCETON. N. J., Oct. 5.—In expectation of a hard game with Villanova to-morrow the Princeton coaches shortened practice to-day and kept the regulars in the scrimmage for only a few minutes. Hart was played at halifback for the first time and made such a good showing that he will start the game to-morrow. The practice was devoted mainly to lineup for kicks, and there was the same fault of allowing somebody to break through to break the punt that was the cause of Stevens's score last Saturday. It took the varisty exactly six rushes to-day to make their first touchdown, due principally to two 25 yard runs by Read, the second taking the ball behind the goal posts. Then Hart pulled along by McCrohan and Waller gradually worked the ball up the field and in ten minutes made the second score. The same team will start the game to-morrow as played last Saturday, except that Hart and McCormick will be in the back field. John DeWitt, 1904, the famous tackle, was on the field to-day helping the coaches.

The Bostons won the final game of the series from Brooklyn yesterday in a ten inning contest at Washington Park. Brook Boston made two runs in the tenth and wor out. The champion Pirates won a double header from the Reds, closing their season. The second game was called after the seventh inning on account of darkness. Th Chicago Cubs and the Cardinals split even. The New Yorks had an off day. They will line up against the Brooklyns this after-noon at Washington Park for the last series of the season. The results:

Hunter outpitched Richie for nine imnings and then found the pace too hot and faltered in his work. Three hits in the tenth, combined with a fumble by Wheat and a sacrifice fly by Beck, netted the Bostons two runs and gave them the game. The men who made the safeties were Moran, Becker and Shean, the Fordham graduate sending in the run that snapped the tie.

Wheat and Hunter, both of them youngsters, did five-ninths of Brooklyn's hitting. The outfielder made three singles, while the pitcher had a pair of doubles. One of Brooklyn's runs was traceable to a low throw by Sweeney, but the Boston shortstop more than made up for this misplay by sensational work at short, a position which is more or less new to him.

McElveen's error let Boston's first run in. The Doves' second count came from hits by Autrey and Richie, two infield outs being sandwiched in between the safeties. Their third marker was made by Getz. He singled in the seventh and rode home on Sweeney's double, which was the only extra base drive the Doves got off Hunter. The score:

COLLINS RETAINS TITLE. Beats Outdoor Champion Daly in Five Mile A. A. U. Run.

The second section of the A. A. U. national indoor championship took place last night in Madison Square Garden before a crowd which was a considerable improvement on Monday night. Ten events made up the programme, and in every case the competition was keen and exciting. A majority of those who captured titles year were on hand again, all eager to win gold medals once more. Wilson to Coach Princeton Track Team PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 5 .- The athletic princeton, N. J., Oct. 5.—The athletic graduate advisory committee to-day un-expectedly announced the selection of Charles E. Wilson of Chicago as coach of the Princeton track team for the coming the Princeton track team for the coming season. Mr. Wilson arrived here simultaneously with the announcement and promptly started work with a squad of fifty men who had come out in response to a call issued yesterday. He has been in athletics as competitor, trainer, coach and manager for the last twelve years and has during that time been coach of the Chicago Central Y. M. C. A. for three years, was two years with the First Regiment Athletic Club of the same city, spent one year at the University of Illinois, and for the last two years has been at Purdue University. High recommendations accompany him from Coach Stage of Chicago and from Bert Williams, captain of Princeton's track team in 1905. The selection settles a discussion that has been going on all summer.

The Nursery Handicap for two-year-olds, six furlongs, will be run at Belmont Park to-day with Grasmere, Greenvale and Candleberry perhaps the best. In the first race, for two-year-olds, five furlongs, Aneoki, Livingston and Herdsman may go well. In a high weight handicap at six furlongs Sir John Johnson, Huck and Royal Onyx have chances.

In the third race, at a mile and a furlong, Woodcraft, Blackford and Bonnie Kelson figure well. In the fifth race, for three-year-olds, seven furlongs, Twilight Queen, Quantico and Grania look for midable. Maidens will run in the last race, at a mile. Wingohocking, Banbury and Bushey Top have worked fass. The entries follow:

"The Six Hundred" 600 Fall Overcoats for men, the greater number of which are silklined and formerly priced at 25.00 27.50 30.00 On Sale at

This is the greatest event of its kind we have ever conducted.

19.50

For this reason: Every overcoat was made by our own organization to sell for 25.00, 27.50 And for this reason: The overcoats are perfectly styled and possess the character and distinctiveness associated with all our clothing. And again for this reason: It is the very beginning of the season when price-reductions are very, very unusual. Hence it must be patent to every man that a sale of fine fall overcoats at 19.50 that were 25.00, 27.50 and 30.00-is an opportunity of all opportunities.

The fabrics are velours, coverts, thibets, cheviots, unfinished worsteds and diagonals-black, gray, tan, oxford and olive in medium and full length models. Cravenettes and rubberized coats are included

There were so many good matches that the gallery hardly knew which way to turn.

Miss Harley and Miss Adams attracted a deal of attention and every one wondered if Miss Adams would be able to repeat her victory scored over her rival in the Massachusetts championship a few months ago. From a scoring point of view neither did Miss Harley's former straight game left ther, and in its place appeared a frequent tendency to slice, a weakness that cost her dearly on more than one occasion. In the matter of steadiness Miss Adams was little if any, better off. They reached the turn all square and were level at the fifteenth, but mistakes cost the champion the sixteenth and home holes, so that the match went to the Wollaston girl by 2 up.

The winner barely managed to scratch round under 100, while Miss Harley was even worse, as may be seen by the following card:

Miss Heacher easily lived up to her reputation as one of the most brilliant woman golfers in the world by the way she scored at the expense of Miss C. Shreve of Brae Burn. Most of the holes going out were recelled off in par figures, and had it not been for an 8 at the sixth, where she got burnlered, the Soctoh girl would have made a score calculated to make a professional

Favorites fell by the wayside thick and fast. Among these were Miss Kate Harley of Fall River, the title holder the two Cartis girls of Boston and Miss Georgianna Pishop of Brooklawn, a trio of erstwhile champions.

In a way it proved a day of disaster for the Massachusetts and metropolitan contestants, but as favorites were bracketed together the heartburnings were bound to be frequent. New York's one consolation rests in the fact that Mrs. C. T. Stout of the Richmond Country Club won handily at the expense of Miss Anita Phipps, the far driver from Springfield.
